Business Discussion

Why Premiera foods?

This simply because both of us and any firms is simultaneously both buyer of our production inputs And for sure seller of our output, so we for sure ask the same question you are about to ask now. So to make it easy let me justify it and give you the reasons of why

Knowing how

We are sure that we will deliver you a real value due to the diversification of products Styles, packages, markets almost worldwide what is going to help us to serve you on the best way possible

Our adopted practices

Suppliers and supply chain is undoubtedly on the top of the firm micro environment, so we are here to keep you unworried, we are applying the latest technology And food international systems in our farms, factory, quality, food safety, internal procedures, time or supplying problems will appear.

It is not Zero sum game

We don't want to make profit on the expense of your loss on the contrary we need to keep you successful so both of us succeed on the long term relationship.

We didn't start in our factory

Our history on many international markets helped us to weave what you are looking for not to sell you what we have produced.

Continuous innovation

"Innovate or evaporate" yes this is the motto of the quality and innovation department on our factory, so we always promise with exceeding your expectations every time.

We trade off

In our policy we generate the profit from volume not from price so we are the lowest in terms of prices.

What history do you have?

We are a premier food factory in Egypt for processing and exporting table olives and pickles. Since 2013, we have started studying the market for table olives, selecting target markets, segments, and niches. We determined our precise differentiation points with our label and private one, and then we succeeded in entering the Spanish, Brazilian, French, Greek, Italian, Chilean, Russian, German, Peruvian, and Pakistani markets, and finally the American market, gaining the loyalty of our clients on those markets and listing them as true friends, not just butterflies. We are also competing in the Middle East and the Gulf markets with our brand in Kuwait, Iraq, Bahrain, Jordan, and many other places. We are still doing as much as we can to dominate the markets and hope one day to honor our clients' list with your existence.

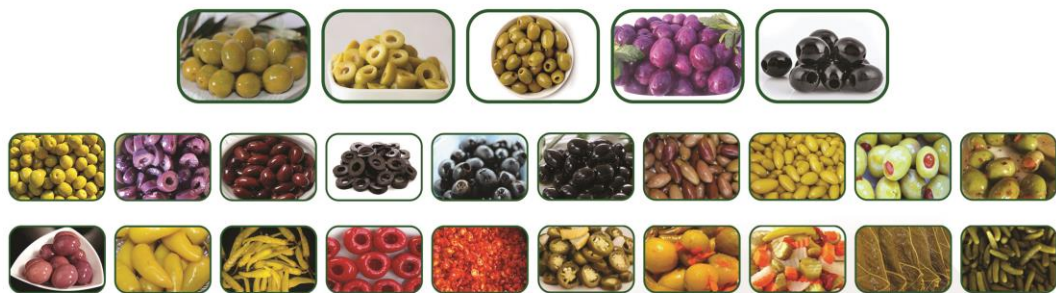

What facility do you run?

Through the talk about our history, I believe that you have got the impression that we are targeting the top and nothing else, because simply we believe that we deserve it. We deserve the top, so we are only planning to reach the top. In order to achieve that, we know by heart that we need special resources, whether the capital (machinery), the labor, the technician, and so on. For achieving that, as for example, having strong facilities, so from the very beginning, we have started building the factory with the most modern machinery, so the pitting and slicing lines are being imported from Spain. (OFM) The oxidation line is (OFM) and we are keeping adapting the most modernized technology for being efficient and delivering you the optimum value. Even in terms of the land, our factory is on a space of 5 hectares, being supported with very modern machinery to enable us to reach the top.

What products do you process?

In fact, we are processing plenty of items in our firm, and we are continuously adding new items to that list in addition to the customer-made orders. So if you don't find what you are looking for on that list, just give us what you need, and it will be made. And now let us roam on that list.
